We normally bring you information and advice on health related topics. Today, I have something different for you . . . my new book. Given the fact that I wrote it, I have to give it 2 thumbs up. Seriously though, I think the book is a great way for anybody to get introduced to the world of internet marketing.

A step by step guide for anybody who has ever wondered how to make money online. The book guides you through all the beginning steps required to start an online business and teaches a more advanced repeatable system that can be applied to any online business venture to increase website traffic and improve search engine rankings.

The book starts with a lesson on how search engines rank pages then moves into 7 lessons that are designed to get readers started in their own online business quickly. The lessons and associated tasks can be completed one per day to have an online business started in 7 days or they can be done in just a day or two for faster results.
